The SIPO – what it's all about

The statement of investment policy and objectives (SIPO) is a key document for a managed investment scheme:

- it describes the scheme and sets out the philosophy, strategies and objectives – so you can understand what makes the scheme tick,
- it describes the investment governance and management framework for the scheme – so you can see how the scheme is managed and monitored, and
- it establishes limits on the types of investments that each fund within a scheme may invest in – so you know the sorts of investments each fund will be investing in.

The Forsyth Barr Funds

The Forsyth Barr Funds (the Scheme) is a managed investment scheme registered under the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013. Forsyth Barr Investment Management Limited (the Manager, we or us) is the issuer and manager of the Forsyth Barr Funds. The Scheme provides investors with access to a range of 13 investment funds (each a Fund and together, the Funds):

- Cash Fund
- Bond Fund
- NZ Companies Fund
- AUS Companies Fund
- Property Fund
- Global Quality Fund
- Global Value Fund
- Global Growth Fund
- Global Sustainability Fund
- Climate Change Fund
- Tech Fund
- Healthcare Fund
- Gold Fund

Forsyth Barr Funds Investment Philosophy

The Funds provide investors with a broad selection of investment opportunities, through underlying managed funds, that can be combined into well-designed portfolios to suit different investor preferences and goals and different investor types.

The Funds cut through the complexity of having to choose from among the multitude of investment opportunities available. We do the research and present investors with our expert choices for each Fund.

Generally we believe there are opportunities for active investment managers to make the most of, and that an actively managed portfolio of investments will over time provide better returns than one that merely tracks an index. However, the use of a passive index-based approach in some instances also enables us to offer a wider range of funds, and in some instances there may be fewer opportunities to exploit or greater risk from trying to pick those opportunities.

Investment objectives, strategies, and policies

Specific objectives, policies and limits

The specific objectives, policies, and limits that apply to each Fund are set out in the Schedules to this SIPO.

General strategies

The Funds generally invest in other managed funds.<sup>1</sup> This helps to ensure good diversification and provides specialist investment management (through active management or in the design of the passive strategy), regardless of how small or big our Funds are. As at the date of this SIPO, each Fund invests in one underlying fund, but it is possible for each Fund to invest in more than one underlying fund.

For our NZ Companies, AUS Companies, Cash, Bond, and Property Funds we currently invest in the Octagon Investment Funds.<sup>2</sup> We are also the issuer of those funds and closely monitor their performance. The investment manager of the Octagon Investment Funds is Octagon Asset Management Limited, which is another Forsyth Barr group company.

For the other funds we follow an investment selection process to choose underlying funds that align with our investment philosophy and each Forsyth Barr Fund's investment objective.

We aim to track the performance of the underlying funds as closely as possible (in New Zealand dollar terms). The key factors affecting that are the amount of cash assets each Fund holds for liquidity purposes, and the transaction costs involved in buying and selling units in the underlying funds. Subject to maintaining a liquidity buffer, the overarching strategy for each Fund is to be as fully-invested as possible in the relevant underlying fund. As such there is no tactical allocation away from that target and no rebalancing to be done. However, the actively managed underlying funds will be doing those things within the underlying fund.

<sup>1</sup> Except for the Gold Fund which currently invests in an exchange traded product which is technically a debt security under EU law, but which is designed to track the price of physical gold, is secured by physical gold, and is in substance similar to a managed fund.

<sup>2</sup> Octagon Investment Funds are issued by Forsyth Barr Investment Management Limited. The Product Disclosure Statement for the Octagon Investment Funds is available on the Octagon Asset Management website (www.octagonasset.co.nz) and on the Disclose Register (www.disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz).

Currency Hedging Policy

We do not undertake foreign currency hedging in relation to the Funds. That means that the value of the Funds with non-NZD investments will fluctuate with the value of the New Zealand dollar. However, some of the underlying funds may manage currency risk in terms of the currency they are issued in (e.g. a US dollar denominated fund may manage USD currency risk). Octagon Asset Management Limited also manages currency risk in the Octagon Investment Funds in terms of the New Zealand dollar, as described in the SIPO for those funds.

Derivatives Policy

We do not enter into derivatives in respect of the Funds. Underlying funds may use derivatives.

Borrowing

The Funds may borrow to facilitate investor-initiated activity and for the payment of fund expenses.

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) Policy

In the table that follows, we set out the extent to which ESG factors are incorporated into investment choices for the Forsyth Barr Funds, and the extent to which ESG factors are applied within the underlying fund(s) (as at the date of this SIPO). You can also check the investments made by each underlying fund, and the policies they or the index they track applies, by searching on each fund or index.<sup>3</sup>

Funds that have ESG themes

- Global Sustainability Fund – “Sustainability” as a theme relates to companies contributing to positive environmental and social outcomes, thereby being seen as more sustainable over the longer term. Accordingly, the investment objective of this Fund is to invest in one or more funds that invest in companies which are assessed as contributing to positive environmental and social outcomes.

- Climate Change Fund – “Climate Change” as a theme relates to companies responding to climate change. Accordingly, the investment objective of this Fund is to invest in one or more funds that invest primarily in companies taking steps to position themselves to benefit from efforts to mitigate, to address challenges presented by, or to help the world adapt to climate change.

Screening done by Forsyth Barr

We undertake screening in relation to companies in each underlying fund that the Forsyth Barr Funds invest in. We apply that screening both as part of the selection processes and in our regular monitoring.

However, because we aren't the investment manager of the underlying funds, we don't have control over the holdings within them and cannot get them to dispose of an offending investment, should one arise. This means that when we identify a company in an underlying fund that is flagged by our ESG screening, our decision will be whether to (a) still select or continue to hold the underlying fund, or (b) not select it or to sell it.

We will make that decision based on assessment of the holding and the related screening flag. We will discuss the findings with the fund manager. After this engagement we also assess the materiality of flagged investments and whether these impede the investment objective of the fund.

If we decide to replace an underlying fund because it has been flagged by our ESG screening, we'll disclose the relevant details on the Forsyth Barr website (www.forsythbarr.co.nz) and through the reporting provided for any relevant Forsyth Barr service that uses the Funds, including why we are replacing the underlying fund, the name of the fund we're replacing it with, and the timing for doing that (if it has not already been replaced).

If we decide to select or continue to invest in an underlying fund that has some exposure to one or more companies we are seeking to identify and exclude through our ESG screening, we'll disclose relevant details on the Forsyth Barr website (www.forsythbarr.co.nz) and through the reporting provided for any relevant Forsyth Barr service that uses the Funds, including our explanation as to why we've decided to select or continue to invest in that underlying fund. We will then review our continued investment in that underlying fund in our on-going monitoring and review.

The Investment Committee responsible for the Forsyth Barr Funds monitors and reviews the ESG screening of the Forsyth Barr Funds. The Committee meets at least every two months.

We apply screening in three ways –

- Business Involvement Screening

We use a screening service that provides data on the extent of companies' involvement in specific products, services, processes, or operations that may cause, contribute to, or be associated with adverse social or environmental impacts.

We screen for any companies that derive:

- 5% or more revenue from the production of tobacco products. The screening does not extend to the sale or distribution of tobacco products, for example the screen captures tobacco manufacturers but does not extend to retail distributors (e.g. supermarkets and other retailers) who sell cigarettes or e-cigarettes.

Tobacco Products include nicotine-containing products, including traditional and alternative tobacco smoking products (vapes, vaporizers, e-pipes etc).

- 5% or more revenue from the mining of thermal coal and its sale to external parties, and contract mining services. The screening does not include revenue from coal trading, intra-company sales of mined thermal coal, revenue from metallurgical coal (coal used in the production of steel), or coal mined for internal power generation.
- Any revenue from the production of controversial or nuclear weapons, systems and components. The screening includes companies involved indirectly through ownership ties to companies involved in such products. The screening also includes components of weapons but does not include non-essential components of weapons. For example, items that are commonly used in everyday electronics, mechanical equipment, and vehicles, that are not specific to weapons.

Controversial weapons are military weapons that have potential to cause excessive or indiscriminate harm, violate international norms, or mass destruction. For example, biological or chemical weapons (weapons that use pathogens such as viruses or bacteria that have toxic properties that kill, injure or incapacitate), blinding laser weapons etc.

Nuclear weapons are weapons that use nuclear energy and reactions to cause an explosion, for example atomic bombs and missile warheads.

- ESG Controversies

We use a screening service which monitors companies involved in or allegedly involved in events or ongoing situations in which operations and/or products allegedly have a negative environmental, social and/or governance impact (a “controversy”). For each controversy, the screening determines the severity of the case based on the nature of harm and scaled of alleged impact (Very Severe, Severe, Moderate or Minor), the role of the company (direct or indirect), and the status of the case (concluded, partially concluded, ongoing, archived, or historical concern). Based on these three inputs, an overall Score is determined for each controversy which is then translated into a red, orange, yellow or green flag. We screen for any companies that are red flagged.

- Global Norms – United Nations Global Compact Alignment

We use a screening service which assesses a company’s compliance with the UN Global Compact Principles, based on the flags determined by the ESG Controversies screening process above. The UN Global Compact Principles are a set of 10 principles which relate to human rights, labour, environment, and anti-corruption.<sup>5</sup> The screening service will give each company a score (Fail, Watch List or Pass). We screen for any companies that have a score of either Fail or Watch List.

As at the date of this SIPO we use screening tools provided by MSCI. You can find more information about MSCI's screening tools on their website www.msci.com.

Cash and cash equivalents

Each of the Forsyth Barr Funds has an allocation of up to 10% in cash and cash equivalents for transactional and operational purposes, although typically we would look to minimise that allocation (as reflected in the target allocation of 0%). ESG factors are not taken into account in investing these amounts.

<sup>5</sup> See <https://unglobalcompact.org/what-is-gc/mission/principles>. The UN Global Compact is a voluntary international association calling on companies to align their strategies and operations with the UN Global Compact Principles

In deciding whether a breach is material, we will assess the circumstances of the breach in the context of the Forsyth Barr Funds and the relevant Fund, and take into account the following factors:

- the size of the breach in relation to the Forsyth Barr Funds and the relevant Fund;
- any losses caused to investors;
- whether the breach involves related-party transactions;
- whether the breach is an isolated incident, or part of a recurring pattern of breaches;

- whether the breach causes the PDS or any register entry on Disclose in respect of the Forsyth Barr Funds and the relevant Fund, or an advertisement relating to the Forsyth Barr Funds and the relevant Fund, to be false or misleading;
- how quickly the breach is rectified after we became aware of the breach; and
- how long the breach went on for.

Limit breaks are reported to the Supervisor in accordance with the requirements of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013.

If any Fund moves outside a target asset allocation range or ceases to comply with any other limit or restriction, there is no breach of that limit or restriction if the Fund returns to compliance within seven business days.
